Our Purpose

We know

how challenging life as a foodservice operator can be.

We cherish

our customers and our staff.

We provide ideas, menu inspiration, helpful tools and counsel.

We strive to be better in all that we do.

Our Mission

1. Be helpful

We want to be long-term partners and provide actionable help to the operators who rely on us.

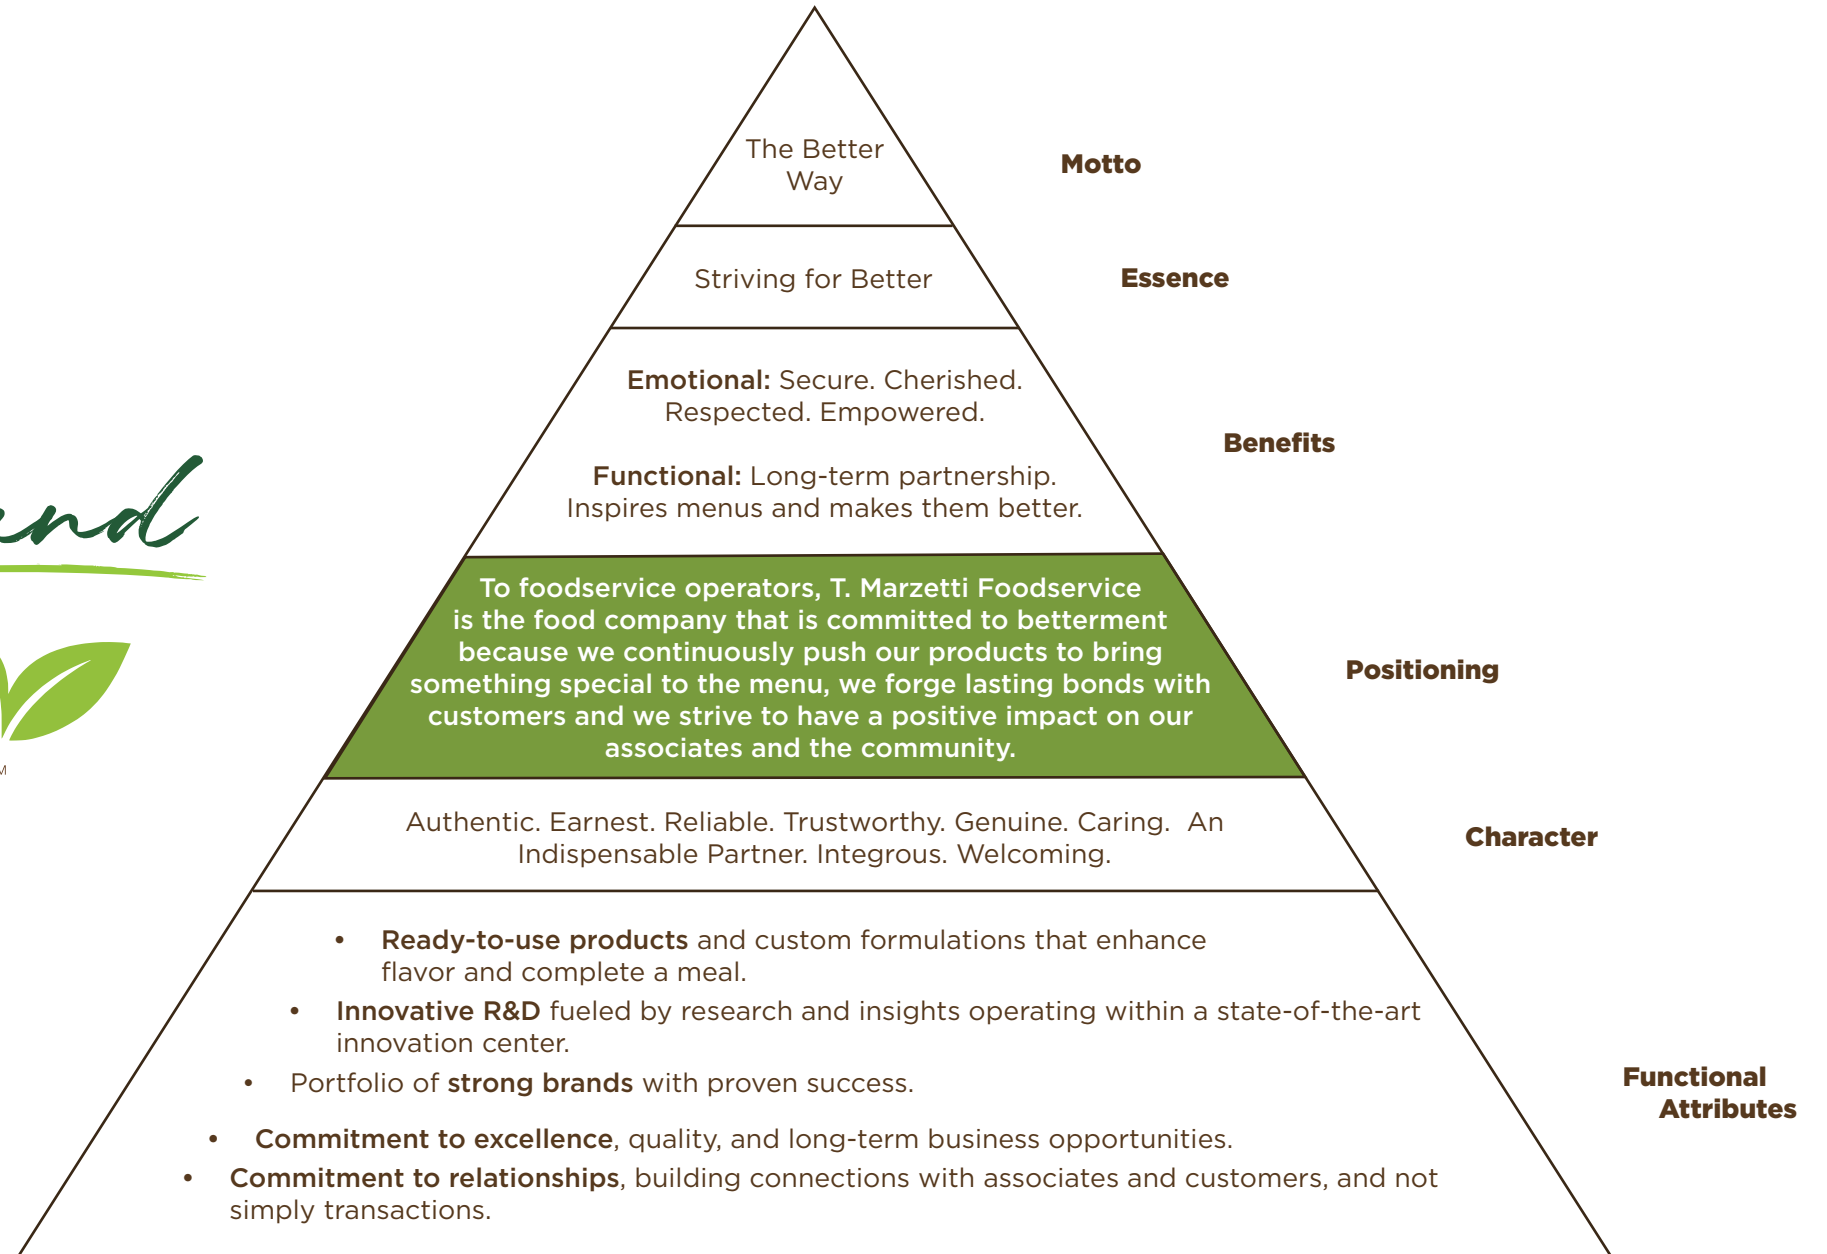

2. Be genuine

We want our customers, partners and associates to feel secure because they trust us to have their best interest at heart.

3. Be supportive

We want everyone we work with to feel empowered to do more of what we all love in this industry: serve good food.

Our Brand

Our Brand

From our innovation center to our production lines, the T. Marzetti family shares a common manifesto: never stop looking for The Better Way

It's why everyone shares in the responsibility of continuous improvement and why our customers know they can always expect better solutions from our team for their business and customers.

Our Story

In 1896 Teresa Marzetti moved from Florence to Columbus. She started a small restaurant. In the first 20 years it survived an automation boom, a world war and a pandemic. It survived despite the challenges. It thrived because of the challenges.

In 1947, she opened a dressing factory on the second floor of her restaurant. The business kept growing because she never stopped thinking of better ways to bring good food to more people. It's what we've done for years and what we'll do for years to come.

Our Character

T. Marzetti is the partner who keeps getting better.

Like our founder, we are professional incorrigible optimists. The better way is not always the easiest way. It takes passionate, courageous, relentless improvement. But it's exactly what T. Marzetti is all about. Because our customers never stop searching for better, neither will we.

The Better Way

Our Voice

The way we speak with each other is the same way we speak with restaurant operators, distributors and anyone else who wants to talk about making food better. Our voice is human, meaning we speak in a way our audience can immediately understand and relate to. We speak passionately about the things we care about, mostly the people we work with and the food they serve.

Photography

Bright, natural light should always be used to reinforce the feel of fresh. All recipes should be accented with vibrant ingredients that add color and interest to the plate. Food should be shot close in to capture detail and texture of sauce drippings. Acceptable angles are overhead, $\frac{3}{4}$ and straight on.

To encapsulate and elevate words/headlines.

Marks can be changed to any brand approved color.

Graphic Elements

Wayfinders (lines) are meant to lead us. It's an elevated visual tool that guides the viewer through in a helpful manner. Our background textures showcase our modern, artistic approach to foodservice. Brush strokes elucidate a handmade, crafted quality that T. Marzetti shares with its customers. Fresh, innovative, ever-evolving.
